

Educational Talent Search

About Educational Talent Search

Educational Talent Search (ETS) is a federally funded pre-college program created in 1965 as part of the Higher Education Act. Annually, $712,454 in funding is provided by the U.S. Department of Education. ETS has been a part of Cuyahoga Community College since 1968. The program services 1,300 students in grades 6-12. ETS provides academic, career and financial counseling and encourages participants to graduate high school and complete their postsecondary education. A variety of free services are available to participants, including scholastic, cultural and enrichment activities.

ETS currently serves students from:

- Charles A. Mooney Elementary School
- East Technical High School
- Scranton Elementary School
- James Ford Rhodes High School
- Wade Park Elementary School
- John Adams High School
- Lincoln-West High School

Mission

The mission of ETS is to help under-resourced, potential first-generation college students generate the skills and motivation necessary to complete secondary education and to enter and successfully graduate from a program of postsecondary education.

ETS student liaisons meet with participants throughout the school year, providing counseling services as well as academic and career workshops that empower students to develop their educational and career goals. Participants are rewarded with increased confidence, motivation and a brighter outlook toward their future.

ETS instructional assistants meet with participants throughout the school year to provide academic support in Math, Science, or English to students utilizing education software and programming. Instructional Assistants work directly with students assisting in one-on-one, small-group and classroom settings.

Other services include pre-college workshops, needs assessment, academic advising, tutoring and career exploration. Financial aid and college application assistance are also provided. Students are encouraged to participate in college tours and cultural activities throughout the year.
