CMA Up Close: Materials and Processes — Winter Edition

Presented by the Cleveland Museum of Art

This course will offer insights into the materials and processes that artists use in making art and the methods museum professionals use to conserve and exhibit them. Hear perspectives from conservators, preparators, curators and educators on the materials, making, care and display of art. Individual session topics include: the special exhibition Picasso and Paper, which highlights Picasso's appreciation of and experimentation with paper revealed in works ranging from collages, sculptures, drawings and prints in an array of techniques; the connections between an 18th-century richly decorated burse (purse) to hold the monarch's Great Seal of the Realm and portraits in the colonial American gallery; the importance of calligraphy and ceramics in Japanese culture; and a discussion of other parts of the museum's permanent collection and rotating exhibitions.

All sessions are held at the Cleveland Museum of Art. This on-site course involves walking through the museum galleries and may also include slide presentations in

CMA Up Close — Diverse Narratives: Past and Present | Spring Edition

Presented by the Cleveland Museum of Art

Artists use art to express their collective and personal identities and allow us to explore diverse narratives across history and geography. This course will consider the stories that artists and artworks tell and the perspectives they ask us to consider.

Session topics will include: reimagining South Asian visual histories through a contemporary perspective in the focus exhibition Shahzia Sikander: Collective Behavior; Black American printmakers' expression of collective and personal identity in Karamu Artists Inc.: Printmaking, Race and Community; the work of American photographer Kelli Connell, who reconsiders the relationship between writer Charis Wilson and photographer Edward Weston; and other areas of the museum's collections and exhibitions.

All sessions are held at the Cleveland Museum of Art. This on-site course involves walking through the museum galleries and may also include slide presentations in the lecture hall and viewing objects from the Education Art Collection in a classroom space. Assistive listening devices are available in the museum.
